

What is the price of Belgian fiber optic cable

Overview

In the main Belgian operators such as Proximus, Orange or VOO, this type of subscription generally costs between €55 and €70 per month. Coaxial fiber, often called hybrid fiber-coax (HFC), is a mix of two technologies. Fiber optic cables are used to bring the signal very close to your home, usually up to a local street cabinet. If you don't need an ultra-fast connection, a subscription offering speeds of 100 to 200 Mbit/s will be more than enough for everyday use (web browsing, video). Farnell Belgium offers fast quotes, same day dispatch, fast delivery, wide inventory, datasheets & technical support. *Promo valid only for new Internet subscribers. How is your discount calculated?

Self-installation: Set up your Proximus services in just a few simple steps, with no technical knowledge required! We offer you a superfast fiber network with an unlimited download volume at a price that's difficult to refuse.
